CD: This is Newsreel Easy. I'm Christine Demstader. In today's programme;

- A woman is found alive in a building that collapsed in Bangladesh
- Manchester United manager Alex Ferguson retires
- And now you can study heavy metal music at university

• Woman found alive

CD: A woman has been found alive, 17 days after a building collapsed in Bangladesh.

Last time on Newsreel, we reported on the clothes factory that collapsed in Dhaka, the capital of Bangladesh.

Over, 1,000 people died.

But rescuers found a woman alive. She had been trapped for more than two weeks.

She was taken to hospital but had no serious injuries.

• Alex Ferguson retired

CD: The manager of Manchester United, Alex Ferguson, is retiring.

He has been manager of the football club since 1986. This will be his last season in charge.

He made a speech after a match at Manchester United's home ground, called Old Trafford. Listen to what he says.

"I have been very fortunate, I have been able to manage some of the greatest players in the country, let alone Manchester United. You have been the most fantastic experience of my life – thank you."

• Multi-racial school at 50

CD: A special in Swaziland in southern Africa is celebrating its 50th anniversary.

anniversary årsdag

It was the first school in the area where black and white students could study together.

together tillsammans

When the school opened there was a system called apartheid in South Africa, the country close to Swaziland.

apartheid (regim med rassegregering)

Black and white people were separated from living, working and studying together. The school was opened to show black and white people can be together.

Listen to some of the pupils at the school today.

“It’s so amazing to be at this school because you learn so much. Like every day I’m learning new things about people and cultures so it’s just amazing.”

to learn att lära

“I personally think it’s a great experience to be able to share your culture with other people and for other people to share their culture with you. Because you learn to accept so many different people and it’s actually quite fascinating learning how other people live.”

• Studying heavy metal music

CD: And finally, there are lots of different subjects you can study at university.

But what about this?

That's right. At a university in the UK you can now study heavy metal music. It's the first heavy metal course in the world.

Pupils study the history of heavy metal and how to perform it.

This is the Motorhead, just one of the bands students learn about on the course.

CD: That's all from Newsreel Easy for this time. Have a look at our Facebook page – it's UR engelska. I'm Christine Demstader. Thanks for listening.
